Does anyone know if C00FRC is a special club station in Cuba?
I would be grateful for any information about this call; I have heard that there is a U.S. QSL manager for it.

Thanks and 73 - John, W3G0I

For Immediate Release

Date: 12 September 1994

For Further Information, contact Scott Ehrlich, wylz@neu.edu

The American Radio Relay League is running a four-part series on ham radio and the Internet titled "Exploring the Internet."

Parts one and two, Sept. and Oct. 1994, written by Steve Ford, WB8IMY, discuss what the Internet is, how to get onto it, and what the League has to offer the 'net.

Parts three and four, Nov. and Dec. 1994, written by Scott Ehrlich, WY1Z, discuss what commands and capabilities are available. Screen shots are used for examples.

If you miss it on the newsstands (meaning you are not an ARRL member), and would like reprints of the articles, here is the reprint ordering information:

Any suggestions on surplus places that carry these?

I'd be very pleased to see a newsgroup dedicated to VHF/UHF/Microwaves. Especially Microwaves (>1GHz).

FAQs: I did start compiling a Microwave FAQ (assisted by G8KMH) some months ago, but temporarily stopped due to more pressing matters, like upgrading the 24GHz gear, and operating portable over the summer. But I do plan to continue this - so if any one wanted to email me contributions it will spur me on to make more progress, and I'll post what I have so far in a few weeks.
